Live streaming, New livestreaming

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, we avoid going abroad. Various events were forced to be canceled, such as education fairs and higher education forums. Thanks to advanced technology, many international events were held online via video calls, through which we have facilitated multi-party communications and achieved great results.

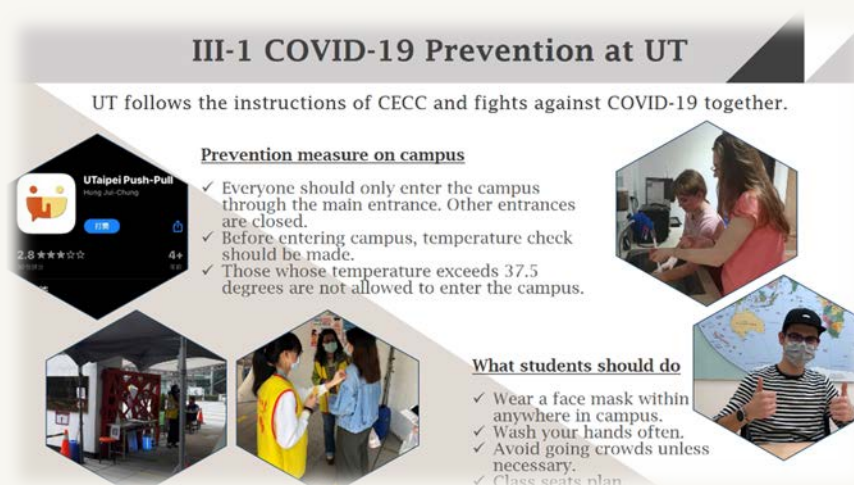

1. An Online Speech for Kyushu University (Sept. 8, 2020)

Theme: Student life in Asian universities during this coronavirus pandemic

Topic: Campus response in University of Taipei during the COVID-19 pandemic

Speaker: Prof. Sabina Shu-Chun Chiang, Dean of International Affairs Office

Goals: To introduce the successful pandemic-prevention measures by explaining the policies implemented by Taiwan's government and the University of Taipei.

2. Live Streaming for Mongolian Students Recruitment (Sept. 23, 2020)

Mongolian Students Recruitment this year was held virtually on May 5 and September 23. Through the online meeting, the local high school students in Mongolia, as well as their parents, teachers and universities, can understand the features of universities in Taiwan. The online recruitment on September 23 was undertaken by Dr. Hung-Shu Chen, Director of Academic Exchange Division of the International Affairs Office, and the video clip was shared on the Facebook fan page.

3. EduCanada-Taiwan Higher Education Partnering Event (Oct. 7, 2020)

In order to promote the interaction and academic cooperation between Canadian universities/technical colleges and Taiwanese academic institutions, the EduCanada-Taiwan Higher Education Partnering Event was organized by Foundation for International Cooperation in Higher Education of Taiwan and Canadian Trade Office in Taipei. The U15 Group of Canadian Research Universities and top 50 universities in Canada were invited to participate virtually while Taiwanese institutions physically participated.
