Cooperation between University of Taipei and Taiwan Institute for Sustainable Energy

Office of International Affairs jointly held a signing ceremony with Taiwan Institute for Sustainable Energy in June 2022. This ceremony focused on advocating for United Nation's SDGs, expressing University's commitment to collaborating with Institute for Sustainable Energy on jointly pursuing sustainable development. Two parties shall continue devoting their efforts towards goal of fulfilling their Environmental, Social, and Governing responsibilities and working towards United Nation's SDGs.

On June 2, 2022, this ceremony was held on the third floor of UT Library. President Ying-Hao Chiu , Ambassador Eugene from TAISE completed signing agreement. In addition, representatives from UT, such as Chair Yeong-Ren Chen , Dept. of Health & Welfare, and Chair Keng-Ming Hsu , Dept. of Social & Public Affairs, they all took participation in this event .

Through this signing ceremony, University pledges to achieve three main goals in future : Practice good governance of the University, Effectively utilize our ability to impact society, and Implement environmental sustainability policies. These three goals would allow University's faculty and students to focus on sustainable development of each department, connecting with importance of environmental and climate sustainability. Gradually, this would lead it into developing deeper local relationships and connecting with the international community, allowing University to positively impact society. At same time, due to impact of COVID-19 pandemic, OIA would also be hosting future cross-border online workshops on SDGs topics, collaborating to achieve University's sustainable development goals.
